The 1968 Spectrum

The ninth yearbook of the students of G.H.S.
Greenfield High School
Greenfield, Wisconsin.

Elizabeth,
To a cute, biology partner!
It really was fun this year.
I'll never forget lab with you and Cheryl! It was a real BLAST

Good Luck
Always,
Nancy

United is the word for the definition of school life.

Front doors open wide for day and night classes, to students and adults who enjoy facilities and programs the year round.

Long awaited use of our new athletic field is a source of Greenfieldite pride.

Our setting, altered by bushes and trees was enhanced by our new auditorium.

United with foreign countries through the
A.F.S. program our cultural ties strengthened.
Dedicated to their profession
the teachers strive,
with united effort, to balance and round out the students' lives.

GREENFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

The kaleidoscope of activities united students in the extra-curricular life and stimulated a sense of fun, responsibility, creativity, and a unique sense of being one.

Leadership, scholarship, character, and citizenship are exemplified by G.H.S.'ers in and out of school. Their hopes and ideals are shown in their everyday activities.

Vivid were the faces expressing school life, bringing smiles and individual reflections of special moments of a special year.

Creative are the talents uncovered in the many fields of culture explored everyday at Greenfield High School.

Dull moments are never a part of G.H.S. Unique is every day. Each day unites with another to compose those memories so special to each unique, united person of G.H.S.

of the future.
New interests were sparked by the addition of a new auditorium and increased musical facilities.
Talent uncovered itself in the new arts and crafts classes along with the art of debating.
Learning of the world conditions and man in the new economics, sociology, and world affairs classes Seniors prepared for the future.

YACADEMICS AND CULT

Grunts, Groans, And Games

All out. Time for fun and games.

With the increased concern about physical fitness throughout the country, G.H.S. is also concerned about the physical fitness of its students. Engaging in more aspects of physical fitness with the addition of increased educational facilities and interests G.H.S. students are becoming more physically fit.

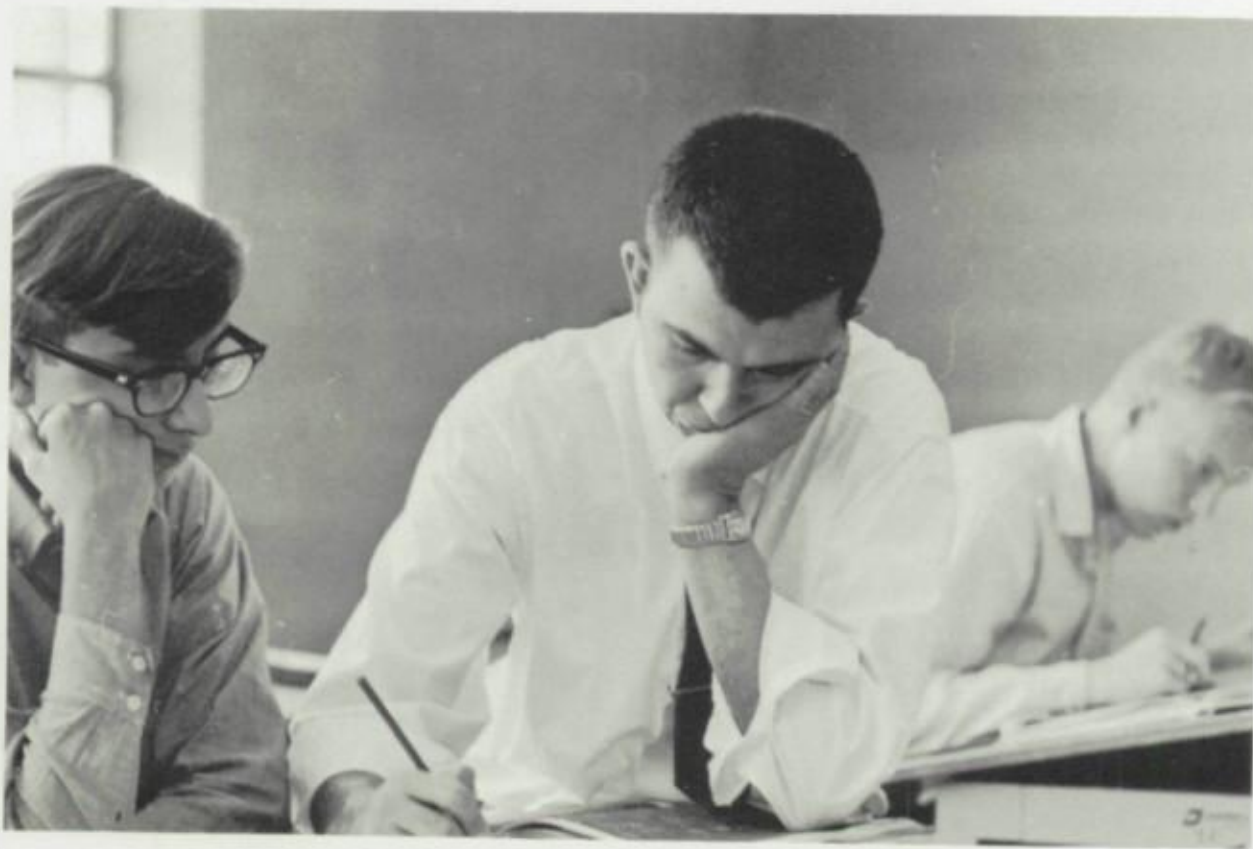

On your mark, get set, go!

Plans Lead To Progress

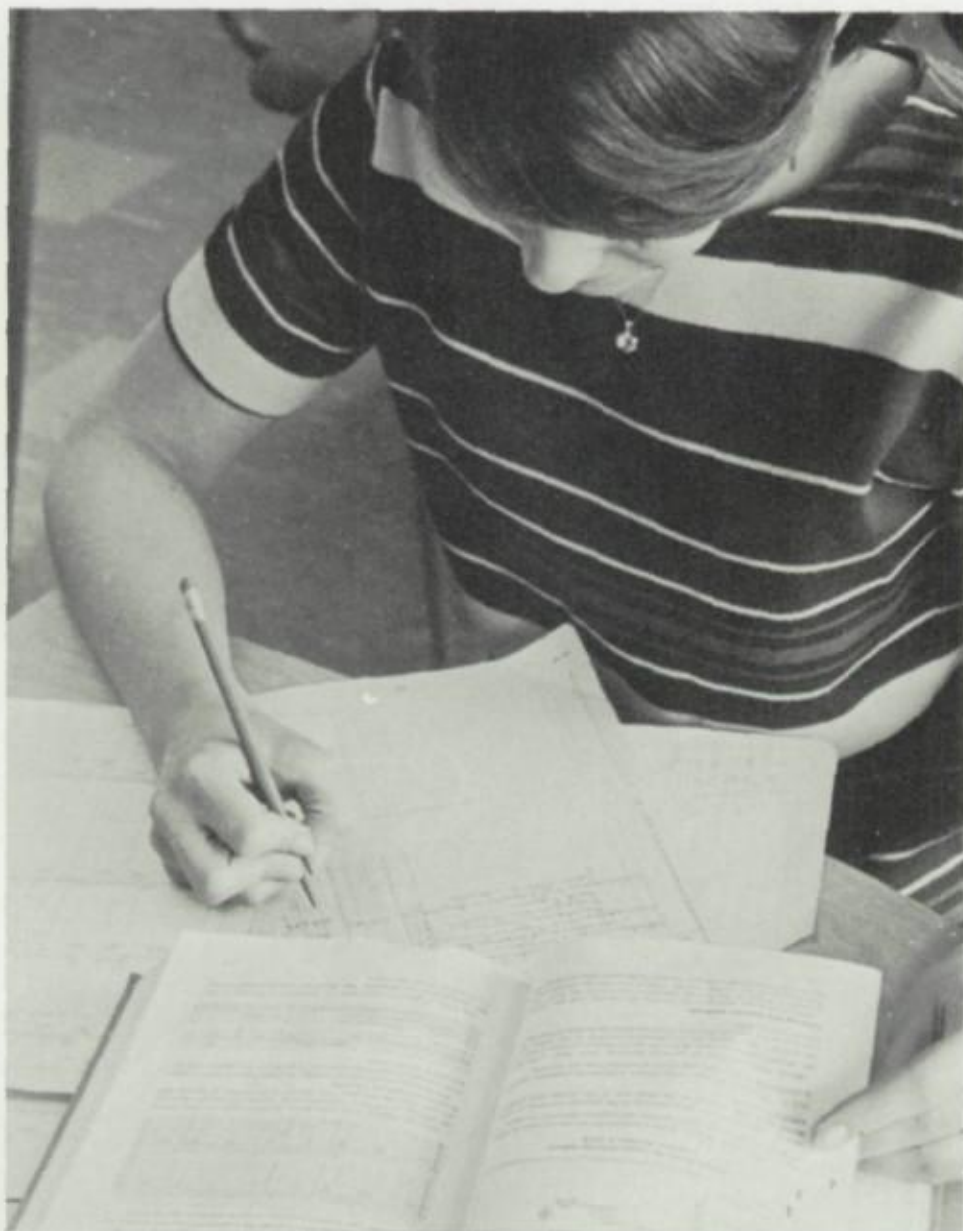

From wood to wonders.

With the aid of Mr. Hagar boys plan blueprints.

A Well Rounded

Business Education

Business education offers G.H.S. students the ability to learn helpful and useful information about the business world. Included in business education are typing, shorthand, stenography, bookkeeping, office practice, business law, and typing-note-hand. Typing-notehand offers one semester of personal typing and one of learning how to combine shorthand and longhand to achieve effective notes. This course is primarily aimed at those who wish to enter college.

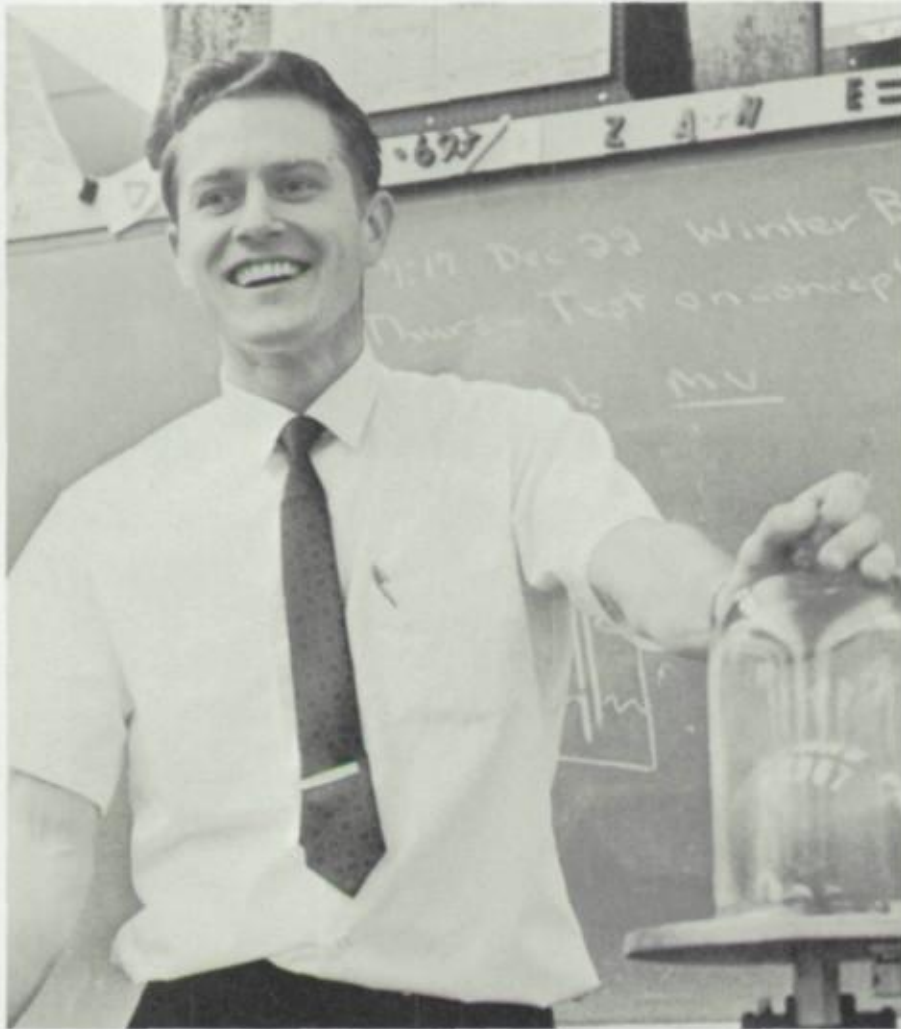

Students learned by doing.

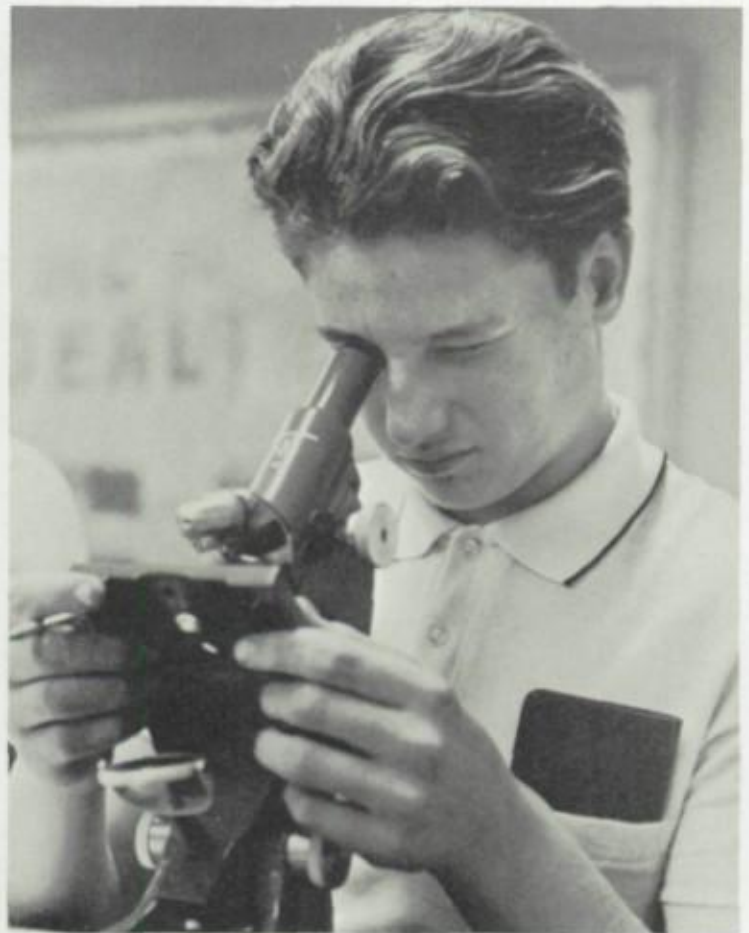

Try, try again.

Education . . .

Science

Mr. Schulz blew up a balloon in a vacuum chamber.

It all looked the same to me!

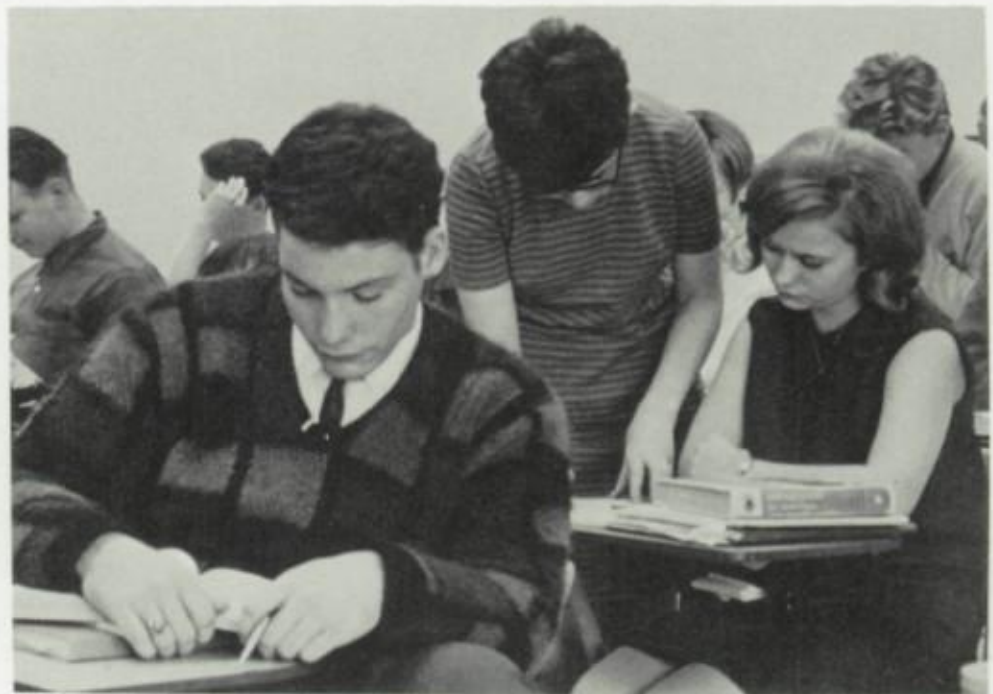

Gary Piskula demonstrated to the class.

... From A Well Balanced

Study And Research

A time to study and do needed research is a necessary part of any curriculum. Resources are unlimited to Greenfield students. Both teachers and books provide valuable help to students. Given time to study, students have time to refresh their memory and do further research on some topic of interest or just do some enjoyable reading.

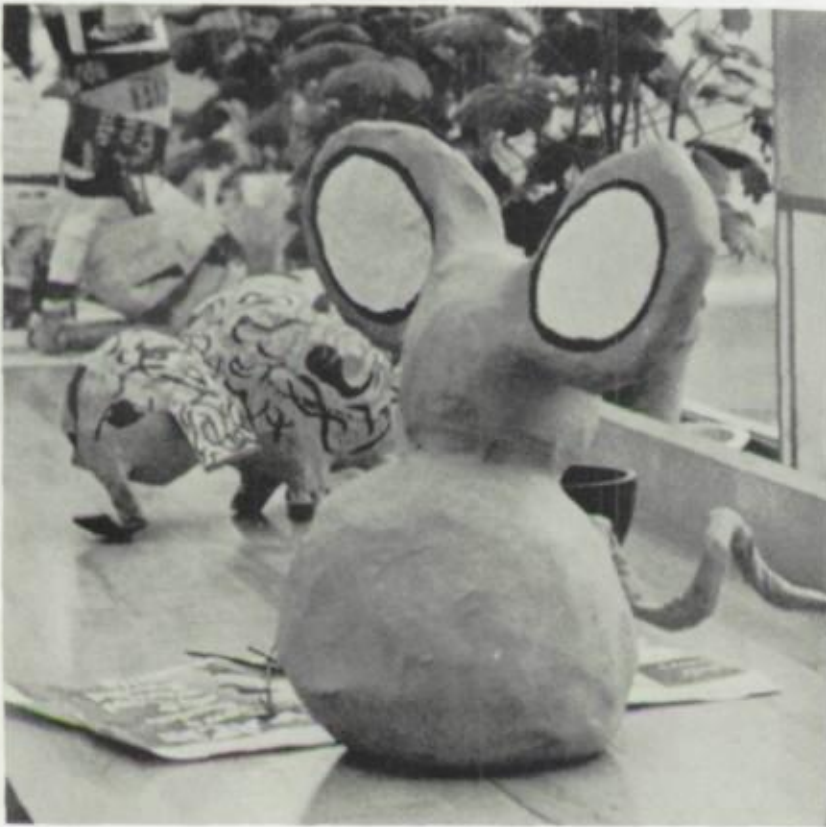

Miss Ward gave advice to a student.

Using their time and the school's library wisely these students finished assignments.

Curriculum

Creativity

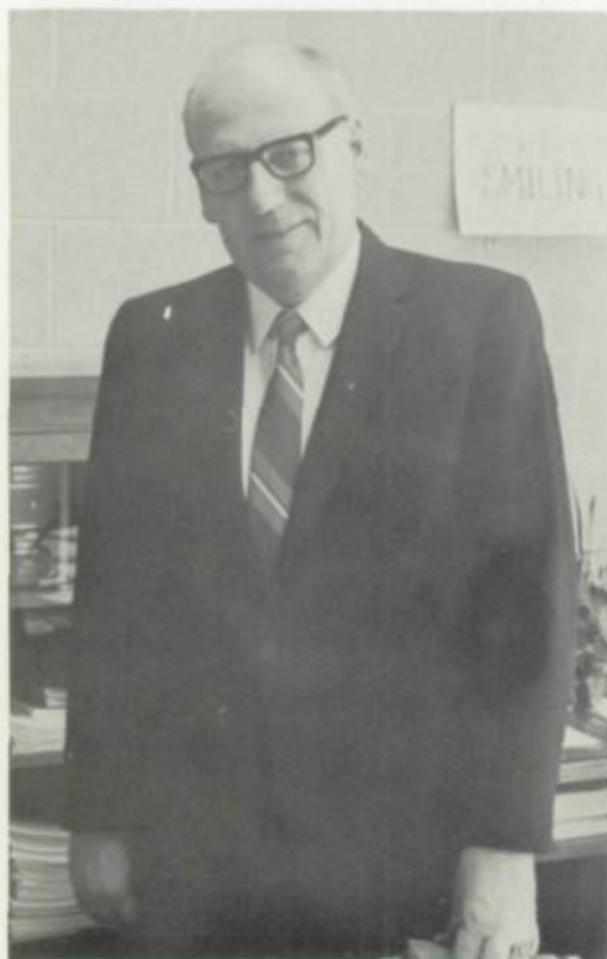

The beginnings of a mouse.

Learning through creativity. Creativity is all around you. The main place a person thinks of when someone mentions creativity is an art class, but what about a metals or shop class? or a biology or math class? In every class there is an amount of creativity whether it be physical or mental. Knowledge goes hand in hand with creativity, and creativity goes hand in hand with each and every Greenfield student.

Biology students created experiments and recorded data.

United we stand — four-fold strong providing Alma Mater unity in thoughts, words, and deeds.
We are individually united, too.
Seniors reminisced that big Class Trip and the long-awaited graduation.
Juniors proudly displayed their new class rings and breathlessly awaited their prom.
Sophomores traditionally observed
Sadie Hawkin's Day.
Freshmen learned the tricks of the trade;
Looked longingly at the Upperclass Status; and became part of the ever increasing unit of G.H.S.
Each class having its own hopes and desires, each independent, together created that individual atmosphere of G.H.S.

United we create.
Unceasing accomplishments come from G.H.S. students.
Far from home G.H.S.'ers capture the distinctions and honors due them.
In Canada our band marched off with a "first in marching competition."
Equally accomplished are our music and drama departments;
each is unique,
each adds a part to the whole.
Creating a touch of "magic"
students enjoyed the splendor of homecoming and prom, unparalleled events of the year.

The band displayed its synchronized movements.

When the band went to Winnipeg last year
 The roomers at International Inn lived in fear.
 Whether the band would stay, there was some doubt Because half the hotel almost checked out.
 Mr. Reichart and chaperones were given some grief
 When he saw what was happening, the manager weeped.
 Band members were making like Daktari And at two in the morning were on safaris.
 The hotel was glad when the band left
 And a first in marching, the band did get.
 Public relations with Winnipeg will take three years to mend
 Then the band plans to do it again.

After a hard day members enjoyed informal entertainment.

Chaperones helped make the band's trip possible.

And The Band Marched On

Band members had time for sight seeing.

Before marching band members relaxed.

United Again . . . Homecoming

Hey! I forgot my club!

Flattery will get you nowhere!

October 13 and 14 was G.H.S.'s official Homecoming weekend. It was a perfect Homecoming, sparked by the unmistakable school spirit, which united the entire city of Greenfield, the band marching through the halls, and the annual Homecoming assembly. Saturday began with a parade through the city followed by the main attraction, the football game which the Hawks won 20-0. "Frosted Leaves" was the theme for the Homecoming Dance which was climaxed by a bonfire.

The sophomores displayed the winning float, "Tanks for Victory."

The homecoming game the football team won.
We had twenty points to Oak Creek's none.
The sophomores worked hard and won "Best Float,"
And the juniors got the skit trophy, as they had hoped.
Corsages were ordered, and guys pressed their pants,
And took their favorite girl to the homecoming dance.
King Rick and Queen Debbie over it reigned.
It was the perfect ending to a wonderful day.

The 1967 Junior Prom

The finishing touches were put on the doorway.

The cafeteria was unrecognizably changed.

"Kawaii Sagura" was the theme which unified the 1967 juniors and provided them with an unforgettable evening. Months of preparation, under the direction of co-chairmen Mary McDonald and Sue Owens, revealed itself April 21 when the cafeteria was transformed into an oriental setting.

Midway through the beautiful evening the court was introduced, followed by the grand march of the juniors and climaxed by the coronation of King Gene Lentz and Queen Diane Stanecki by the 1966 King and Queen Dave Karel and Joyce Lukaszewicz.

If you take this picture, I'll...

Prom committee members worked diligently to make this prom the best G.H.S. ever had.

Many of the girls just can't wait
To be asked to the prom by their favorite date.
Prom is the social highlight of the year.
That they'll miss it, many girls fear.
So months in advance they become alarmed
And corner the guys and twist their arms.

“Kawaii Sagura” . . .

Truly a "Beautiful Evening"

The band provided beautiful music for a beautiful evening.

Couples danced into the small hours of the night.

See, we're not afraid of the Jolly Green Buddah.

Promgoers enjoyed good music, good decorations, and good company.

Promgoers spent a memorable evening in a formal atmosphere.

“The Egg And I”

Well, it's not a dove for my dishes!

Gee, and we don't even make corn flakes.

When Humpty Dumpty fell, there was a mess,
But the “Egg and I” was a huge success.

Showing strength in almost every event, the Greenfield swimming team compiled one of its most successful seasons in years. Topping the list of many awards they won was tying for second in the state. In state tournament competition, the Hawks also added a sectional trophy as they copped first place. In the conference meet, Greenfield, for the second year in a row, took top honors.

Individually, Art Sanchez set the pace. He was the only Hawk to win a state title, taking the breaststroke. He did it in fine style as he broke the previous state record. You must be in shape — you can't be too fat.

This year, for the first time, wrestling became a true spectator sport. With the addition of cheerleaders, a great team and the best coach possible, Greenfield's wrestling team made a name for itself, both in the school and outside of it. There were a number of firsts for the team, but a special first was winning the Conference crown. Congratulations wrestlers!
